Recent months of uncertainty were very difficult for the members of the team involved also due to a campain which was launched in the press and public media - even throughout Latin America - against STS. There also were security concerns and STS had limited his movements to a narrow path. We are spending the present time in a small Hotel in the mountains in Switzerland in lower part of Engadine - to reduce the profile waiting for the storm to blow over. it was to our surprise last night, when the "Cassazione" in Rome ruled in favour of STS and dropped all charges.

But I know that Israel has come a very long way and enjoys tremendous support in the whole world and will previal in the end.
